Greetings to you from Ziac Software!!

Software Development Life Cycle

We have come across many clients and prospective clients who are quite interested to know the process in which we develop software products. Their interests can be explained with the Software Development Life Cycle. Major activities in Software Development Life Cycle are,

- a. Client Software Requirement Study (SRS)
- b. Software proposal
- c. Software analysis and database design
- d. Code Generation
- e. Testing of the software functionality
- f. Maintenance of the software

In the Software Requirement Study we analyse the requirement of proposed system, business domain, nature of program to be built, required functions, performance and interfacing with other software if required.

The Software proposal is submitted to express our understanding of Client's software requirement and their business domain. The proposal also comprises of the system requirements, Operating System, the Time Frame and Commercial. The software tools required for the backend (database storage) and frontend (programming Language & User Interface) that will be used.

Software Analysis and database design is a vital activity of Software Development Life Cycle. Any glitch in the design could be very complicated to solve in the later stage of software development as the Time Frame may exceed and so the expenses. The analysis comprises of designing exactly how the specifications are to be implemented, defines architecture of database and specifically how the software is to be coded.

Based on the programming language to be used as declared in the Software Proposal, the actual coding of the entire application is done. The coding takes care of the user friendly Graphic User Interface (GUI), validations, pace in which data is stored and extracted.

Apart from the unit tests done while coding, detailed testing of the software operation is done to ensure the functionality, speed and validations are taken care. Multiple methods of tests are carried out to check the stability of the software.

After delivery of the software and on practical usage of the application good inputs or changes required are identified. Here we get a clear indication that the software design is vital such that the software is flexible enough to accommodate the inputs or changes.

The Software Development Life Cycle concludes with optimum usage of software being attained through regular Maintenance of data and software enhancements.

Warm welcome to our New Customers!!

Did you Know?

CVV number in credit and debit cards

CVV or CVV2 number is a Card Verification Value. CVV of Masters / Visa / Diners club cards have 3 digits and are located on the backside of the card. The CVV number of American Express cards has 4 digits and located on front part of their cards.

The CVV or CVV2 number is helpful during online trading where the cardholder is prompted to key in the CVV number for further verification to reduce the fraud transactions.

Solution to last edition's Brain Teaser

Initially, the trains were 240 km apart.

The Bee is flying at the speed of 90 km/h and covers 180 km. Hence, the Bee flies for 2 hours. The trains met 2 hours after they started travelling towards each other. The trains were travelling at the speed of 60 km/h. So, each train travelled 120 km before they met. Hence, the trains were 240 km apart initially.
